Components 1A, 1B

Component 1A Demonstrating Knowledge of Content, Pedagogy and Resources
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
The teacher’s plans and preparations display little knowledge of the content, prerequisite relationships between different aspects of the content, or the instructional practices specific to that discipline. The teacher demonstrates little or no familiarity with resources to enhance own knowledge, to use in teaching, or for students who need them.	The teacher’s plans and preparations reflect some awareness of the important concepts in the discipline, prerequisite relationships between them, and the instructional practices specific to that discipline. The teacher is fully aware of the resources available through the school or district to enhance own knowledge, to use in teaching, or for students who need them.	The teacher’s plans and preparations reflect extensive knowledge of the content and the structure of the discipline. The teacher actively builds on knowledge of prerequisites and misconceptions when describing instruction or seeking causes for student understanding. The teacher seeks out resources in and beyond the school or district in professional organizations, on the internet, or in the community to enhance their own knowledge, to use in teaching, and for students who need them.

Component 1B Demonstrating Knowledge of Students
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
The teacher demonstrates little or no knowledge of students’ backgrounds, cultures, skills, language proficiency, interests, and special needs, and does not seek such understanding.	The teacher indicates the importance of understanding students’ backgrounds, cultures, skills, language proficiency, interests, and special needs, in order to meet the needs of the class as a whole.	The teacher actively seeks knowledge of students’ backgrounds, cultures, skills, language proficiency, interests, and special needs, in order to meet the needs of groups of students.	The teacher actively seeks knowledge of students’ backgrounds, cultures, skills, language proficiency, interests, and special needs from a variety of sources, in order to meet the needs of individual students.

Domain 1 – Planning and Preparation

Components 1C, 1D

Component 1C Setting Instructional Outcomes
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
Instructional outcomes are unsuitable for students , represent trivial or low-level learning, or are stated only as activities. They do not permit viable methods of assessment.	Instructional outcomes are of moderate rigor and are suitable for some students , but consist of a combination of activities and goals, some of which permit viable methods of assessment. They reflect more than one type of learning, but the teacher makes no attempt at scaffolding and building on prior knowledge.	Instructional outcomes are stated as goals reflecting high level learning and curriculum standards. They are suitable for most students in the class, represent different types of learning, and can be assessed. The outcomes are scaffolded and build on prior learning to meet the needs of most students.	Instructional outcomes are stated as goals that can be assessed , reflecting rigorous learning and curriculum standards. The outcomes are scaffolded and build on prior learning to meet the needs of individual students.

Component 1D Designing Coherent Instruction
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
The teacher’s plans include a series of learning experiences that are poorly aligned with the instructional outcomes and do not represent a coherent structure.	The teacher’s plans include a series of learning experiences that demonstrate partial alignment with instructional outcomes, and some of the experiences are likely to engage students in significant learning.	The teacher’s plans coordinate knowledge of content, of students, and of resources to design a series of learning experiences aligned to instructional outcomes and suitable for groups of students.	The teacher’s plans coordinate knowledge of content, of students, and of resources to design a series of learning experiences aligned to instructional outcomes, differentiated where appropriate to make them suitable for all students, and likely to engage them in significant learning.

Component 1E

Component 1E Designing Student Assessments
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
The teacher’s plan for assessing student learning contains no clear criteria or standards, is poorly aligned with the instructional outcomes, or is inappropriate for many students. The results of assessment have minimal impact.	The teacher’s plan for student assessment is partially aligned with the instructional outcomes, without clear criteria, and appropriate for at least some students. The teacher intends to use assessment results to plan for future instruction for the class as a whole.	The teacher’s plan for student assessment is aligned with the instructional outcomes, uses clear criteria, and is appropriate to the needs of students. Domain 2 – The Classroom Environment

Components 2A, 2B

Component 2A
Creating an Environment of Respect and Rapport

Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
Classroom interactions, both between the teacher and students and among students, are negative, inappropriate or insensitive to students’ cultural backgrounds and are characterized by sarcasm, put-downs or conflict.	Classroom interactions, both between the teacher and students and among students, are generally appropriate and free from conflict but may be characterized by occasional displays of insensitivity or lack of responsiveness to cultural or developmental differences among students.	Classroom interactions between the teacher and students and among students are polite and respectful, reflecting caring , and are appropriate to the cultural and developmental differences among groups of students.	Classroom interactions between the teacher and individual students are highly respectful , reflecting caring and sensitivity to students’ cultures and levels of development. Students themselves ensure high levels of civility among members of the class.

Component 2B
Establishing a Culture for Learning

Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
The classroom environment conveys a negative culture for learning, characterized by low teacher commitment to the subject, low expectations for student achievement, and little or no student pride in work.	The teacher’s attempt to create a culture for learning is partially successful , with little teacher commitment to the subject, modest expectations for student achievement, and little student pride in work. Both teacher and students appear to be only “going through the motions.”	The classroom culture is characterized by high expectations for most students and genuine commitment to the subject by both teacher and students, with students demonstrating pride in their work.	The teacher creates a culture for learning in which everyone shares a belief in the importance of the subject and students hold themselves to high standards of performance – for example, by initiating improvements to their work.

Domain 2 – The Classroom Environment

Components 2C, 2D

Component 2C Managing Classroom Procedures
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
Much instructional time is lost because of inefficient classroom routines and procedures for transitions, handling of supplies and performance of non-instructional duties.	Some instructional time is lost because classroom routines and procedures for transitions, handling of supplies, and performance of non-instructional duties are only partially effective.	Little instructional time is lost because of classroom routines and procedures for transitions, handling of supplies, and performance of non-instructional duties, which occur smoothly.	Students contribute to the seamless operation of classroom routines and procedures for transitions, handling of supplies, and performance of non-instructional duties.

Component 2D Managing Student Behavior
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
There is no evidence that standards of conduct have been established and little or no teacher monitoring of student behavior. Response to student misbehavior is repressive or disrespectful of student dignity.	It appears that the teacher has made an effort to establish standards of conduct for students. The teacher tries, with uneven results, to monitor student behavior and respond to student misbehavior.	Standards of conduct appear to be clear to students, and the teacher monitors student behavior against those standards. The teacher’s response to student misbehavior is appropriate and respects the students’ dignity.	Standards of conduct are clear, with evidence of student participation in setting them. The teacher’s monitoring of student behavior is subtle and preventative, and the teacher’s response to student misbehavior is sensitive to individual student needs.

Domain 2 – The Classroom Environment

Component 2E

Component 2E Organizing Physical Space
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
The physical environment is unsafe, or some students don't have access to learning. Alignment between the physical arrangement and the lesson activities is poor.	The classroom is safe, and essential learning is accessible to most students; the teacher's use of physical resources, including computer technology, is moderately effective. The teacher may attempt to modify the physical arrangements to suit learning activities, with partial success.	The classroom is safe, and learning is accessible to all students; the teacher ensures that the physical arrangement is appropriate to the learning activities. Domain 3 - Instruction

Components 3A, 3B

Component 3A Communicating with Students
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
Expectations for learning, directions and procedures, and explanations of content are unclear or confusing to students. The teacher’s use of language contains errors or is inappropriate for students’ cultures or levels of development.	Expectations for learning, directions and procedures, and explanations of content are clarified after initial confusion ; the teacher’s use of language is correct but may not be completely appropriate for students’ cultures or levels of development.	Expectations for learning, directions and procedures, and explanations of content are clear to students. Communications are appropriate for students’ cultures and levels of development.	Expectations for learning, directions and procedures, and explanations of content are clear to students. The teacher’s oral and written communication is clear, appropriate for students’ cultures and levels of development, and anticipates possible student misconceptions.

Component 3B Using Questioning and Discussion Techniques
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
The teacher’s questions are low-level or inappropriate , eliciting limited student participation and recitation rather than discussion.	Some of the teacher’s questions elicit a thoughtful response, but most are low-level , posed in rapid succession. The teacher’s attempts to engage all students in the discussion are only partially successful.	Most of the teacher’s questions elicit a thoughtful response , and the teacher allows sufficient time for students to answer. All students participate in the discussion, with the teacher stepping aside when appropriate.	Questions reflect high expectations and are culturally and developmentally appropriate. Students formulate many of the high-level questions and ensure that all voices are heard.

Domain 3 - Instruction

Components 3C, 3D

Component 3C Engaging Students in Learning
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
Activities and assignments, materials and groupings of students are inappropriate for the instructional outcomes or students’ cultures or levels of understanding, resulting in little intellectual engagement. The lesson has no structure or is poorly paced.	Activities and assignments, materials, and groupings of students are partially appropriate for the instructional outcomes or students’ cultures or levels of understanding, resulting in moderate intellectual engagement. The lesson has a recognizable structure, but that structure is not fully maintained.	Activities and assignments, materials, and groupings of students are fully appropriate for the instructional outcomes and students’ culture and levels of understanding. Domain 3 - Instruction

Components 3E

Component 3E
Demonstrating Flexibility and Responsiveness

Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
The teacher adheres to the instruction plan, even when a change would improve the lesson or address students’ lack of interest. The teacher brushes aside student questions; when students experience difficulty, the teacher fails to accept responsibility.	The teacher attempts to modify the lesson when needed and to respond to student questions, with moderate success. The teacher accepts responsibility for student success, but has only a limited repertoire of strategies to draw upon.	The teacher promotes the successful learning of all students, making adjustments as needed to instruction plans and accommodating student questions, needs and interests.	The teacher seizes an opportunity to enhance learning, building on a spontaneous event or student interests. Summary of Strengths and Areas Recommended for Growth:

Domain 4 – Professional Responsibilities

Components 4A, 4B

Component 4A Reflecting on Teaching
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
The teacher does not accurately assess the effectiveness of the lesson and has no ideas about how the lesson could be improved.	The teacher provides a partially accurate and objective description of the lesson but does not cite specific evidence. The teacher makes only general suggestions as to how the lesson might be improved.	The teacher provides an accurate and objective description of the lesson, citing specific evidence. The teacher makes some specific suggestions as to how the lesson might be improved.	The teacher’s reflections on the lesson are thoughtful and accurate , citing specific evidence of effectiveness. The teacher draws from various resources to suggest alternative strategies and predicts the likely success of each.

Component 4B Maintaining Accurate Records
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
The teacher’s systems for maintaining both instructional and non-instructional records are either nonexistent or in disarray , resulting in errors and confusion.	The teacher’s system for maintaining both instructional and non-instructional records are rudimentary and only partially effective .	The teacher’s systems for maintaining both instructional and non-instructional records are accurate, efficient and effective .	The teacher’s system for maintaining both instructional and non-instructional records are accurate, efficient and effective with students contributing to its maintenance .

Domain 4 – Professional Responsibilities

Components 4A, 4B

Component 4C Communicating with Families
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
The teacher’s communication with families about the instructional program or about individual students is sporadic or culturally inappropriate . The teacher makes no attempt to engage families in the instructional program.	The teacher adheres to school procedures for communicating with families and makes modest attempts to engage families in the instructional program. But communications are not always appropriate to the cultures of those families.	The teacher communicates frequently with families and successfully engages them in the instructional program. Information to families about individual students is conveyed in a culturally appropriate manner .	The teacher’s communication with families is frequent and sensitive to cultural traditions; students participate in the communication. The teacher successfully engages families in the instructional program, as appropriate.

Component 4D Growing and Developing Professionally While Participating in a Professional Community
Current Component Rating:
Unsatisfactory	Needs Improvement	Proficient	Excellent
The teacher does not participate in professional development activities and makes no effort to share knowledge with colleagues. The teacher is resistant to feedback from supervisors or colleagues. The teacher avoids participation in a professional community; relationships with colleagues are negative or self-serving.	The teacher participates in professional development activities that are convenient or are required, and makes limited contributions to the profession. The teacher accepts, with some reluctance, feedback from supervisors and colleagues. The teacher becomes involved in the professional community when specifically asked ; relationships with colleagues are cordial .	The teacher seeks out opportunities for professional development based on an individual assessment of need and actively shares expertise with others. The teacher welcomes feedback from supervisors and colleagues. The teacher participates actively in the professional community and maintains positive and productive relationships with colleagues.	The teacher actively pursues professional development opportunities and initiates activities to contribute to the profession.
